

Pump up the action – with NEW Pumpaloons!

At last, a way to get the kids away from the TV - here's some competitive and fun play action that will get them really excited!! The race is on to get the Pumpaloons pumped up, and proudly standing three feet tall. The faster you pump, the faster they grow!

Pumpaloons is a fast, hilariously fun NEW action game from the UK's leading independent games company, Drumond Park (rrp £19.99, for 2 players aged 4+).

Action pump stations!

There's so much fun to be had! Children dash to their pumps and start puffing up the two lovable, colourful, clown-like wobblers – Stripeyloon and Spottyloon – until they are towering firmly upright. How it's done doesn't matter - you can stomp on the pump with your foot, kneel down and push it furiously with your hands, or even sit on the pump and bounce up and down, as fast as you can go! Don't stop, whatever you do - or the other player will have a good chance of beating you! Keep going... you're getting there - they're growing taller and taller, stretching high, high up, as the gushing air flows in...! Success... everyone knows you've won - the Pumpaloon which fills out first lets out a 'victory' squeak!

It's a pushing, pumping race...

Great for when their friends come round (and so much fun that the whole family will all want a go), Pumpaloons is totally 'on the edge of your seat' stuff, as each child strives to be first – or lots of people can play in relay teams.

Holding a birthday party, organising a sleepover - and stuck for ideas? Why not get out the Pumpaloons! This easy to understand game is also fabulous for family get-togethers, or as an indoor activity for little visitors on a rainy day. The more players there are, the more fun it will be – they'll all have a 'Pumpaloony' time!
