

Welcome to the World of Tomica!

We know you love cars and trains! Now you can blow your mind into a whole new dimension with the amazing world of Tomica from Tomy. Watch as trains speed around the track and cars cruise around the city together. If the streets get too busy simply build a railway to tower above the city, reaching as high as you want to take it.

Invent your own super-cool city that's completely under your control. The Big City Set is a great place to start. Every big city needs a train station and yours can have one too, with the Mega Station Set with its automatic level crossing stopping cars as trains whistle through.

Tomica even has its very own emergency services, Hyper City Rescue, and the Hyper City Rescue Police HQ means that they will always be the first on scene to any emergency.

Police Stations, fire trucks, a brilliant range of cars, garages, shops, trains which zoom around the tracks and people...the list goes on and on. Whether you're crazy for cars or totally mad for trains, Tomica has something for you.

Priced from £2.99 - £69.99, Tomica from Tomy, is about to take the UK by storm. Following 40 years at the top of Japanese kids' wish lists, it's time for you to experience this world of imagination.
